

Web Blog Changes to Facebook

We have moved the blog to Facebook to reach a wider audience and to give you a fuller range of information on the commercial real estate market news, tips and information in the Omaha metro area.

We hope you enjoy this new format and tell your friends about it. Here we will keep you up to date on what is going on in the Omaha metro area in the commercial real estate business, changes to the market, trends, news items and provide tips, ideas and information.

Please like and follow our facebook page at www.facebook.com/propertybanc and tell others about it.